WHEAT DROPPED AGAIN

BULLS DISCOURAGED AND THE SLUMP

AMOUNTED TO 1 7-8C.

All Grain Prices Take a Tumble on the Better Crop Reports and Provisions Go Off in Sympathy.

CHICAGO, April 27 .- Wheat to-day closed at 1%c decline. Liquidation by discouraged longs was as general as yesterday, but not on so heavy a scale. The main depressing factor was the splendid weather, which affected not only wheat, but corn and oats as well. Corn lost 1/4/3/c, oats 1/2c and provisions closed at declines of from 5c to 10c. Wheat started out well enough. Liverpool opened a shade higher for futures, which was not looked for in view of yesterday's sharp decline here, and the first impulse of the demand died out at once and then commenced a slow but steady decline which carried July down to 71%c before a halt of any consequence occurred. Opening sales of that option were at 731/20 73%c, against yesterday's close of 734@73%c.

The weather was quite favorable for field operations and that, perhaps more than anything else, induced traders to turn from the buying to the selling side as readily 45c; lard oils, winter strained, in bris, 50c per as they did. The only intermissions to the gal; in half bris, 3c per gal extra. decline were caused by scalpers taking profits. The reactions arising from the latter cause were slight and on every fresh manifestation of seiling pressure the price yielded like the balance of a weighing scale to a heavy load. Not much attention was Strike, 51/2c; Penbody, 5c; Pride of the West, 101/4c; Ten Strike, 51/2c; Pepperell, 9-4, 15c; Pepperell, 10-4, paid to the statistical news, although it 16%c; Androscoggin, 9-4, 16c; Androscoggin, 10-4, was of a character to cause weakness, even had the weather been less favorable. Berlin reported a drop of 1% marks and spot wheat at Liverpool was ld lower, although futures were higher. Minneapolis and Duluth received 3% carloads, compared with only 290 a week ago, but against 641 for the corresponding day of last year. It was reported that a cargo of No. 3 hard winter wheat (60,000 bushels) at Green Bay, Wis., had been bought to come to Chicago, and such evidence of this being the highest market the sellers could find was the cause of another decline after the market had was of a character to cause weakness, even of another decline after the market had railled 1/2c. About the only comfort the builts had were the crop reports from Cali-fornia, which were decidedly gloomy. The market became radically weak during the closing hour. After the decline to 71%c, the market rallied to 72%c, but that advance had used up all the strength of the bulls and at the close July was selling at

Corn was fairly firm for a time after the opening, but the fine weather had the same weakening effect on corn as it had on wheat, and selling grew general as the bushels without New York. July opened a shade higher at 25%c, sold at 25%@25%c, then slowly declined to 25%@25%c. The closing price was 25%c.

Oats were much weaker than corn, and with a heavier trade. Bulls have been talking much about wet weather delaying seeding and the fine weather naturally affected the market. The heavy receipts, 259 cars, were also a factor. July opened 1/3c lower at 181/4c, declined to 17/4c, and closed at 17/3c bid.

Provisions were heavier and prices tended downward. The market was well supported at first, but the weakness of grain and prospects of larger receipts started a general selling movement. Part of the de-cline was recovered later on covering by shorts. At the close July pork was about 71/2c lower at $8.521/248.55; July lard 5c lower at $4.20, and July ribs 10c lower at $4.671/2. Estimated receipts for Wednesday -Wheat, 3 cars; corn, 80 cars; oats, 140 cars;

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Firmness in Prices the Most Notable

Feature of the Markets.

There was a liberal amount of business doing in all lines of trade on the wholesale streets yesterday, and a very cheerful feeling was manitest. In dry goods there was more activity shown then for some time. Prices in all lines are very strong, particularly in staple cottons, It is evident that an advance must soon be established in prices. Jobbers have been very liberal in their treatment of their customers in view of the hardening tendency, but the conditions of trade will soon force them to put up the prices. Some of the manufacturers have, they say, been selling their product at as low figures as prevailed when cotton was worth 2c less per pound than at present; but they announce that they cannot longer pursue that liberal policy without loss to themseives. In view of the inreads that will be made upon the supply of raw material by the Indian drought and the overflow in the Mississippi valley it is evident that cotton will malatain its present price at least if it does not advance, and when stocks purchased at the lew figures which recently prevailed are used up a sharp advance in manufactured goods must follow. In groceries there is nothing new to re-Quotations remain very firm. guite active. Druggists report a good business doing, especially in glass, paints and oils, the demand for which has been stimulated by the return of pleasant weather. The inquiry for plate glass is unusually good. On Commission 16W now there is a much better feeling. While prices for stu? vary from day to day there is generally firm feeling prevalent and dealers average, 6%c; 7 to 9 lbs average, 6%c. In dry are again taking courage. In produce trade is fairly active. Poultry is in better request, hens bringing 7c. Butter is weaker. In face of a more

There is little doing in the grain market. Receipts of everything except corn are very light, Receipts, according to the Board of Trade rewheat. The mules slowed up as a motor By the time they crossed the tracks several people sprang forward to grab their bits and stop them. A man who had been industriously pushing one of those big hand-brooms used by the street cleaners dropped everything and rushed down to see what was the commotion. He was equal to the emergency and climbed the ladder at the front end of the wagon and took the reins. Someone had meantime hurried to the Dispensary, to find Dr. Bell alone. He grabbed his hat and medical case and hurat 427-32d; good middling. 411-32d; American | ried out, believing that some one had been run over by a street car or that some equal-ly disastrous accident had happened. When he reached the crowd of excited people 74c; receipts, 279 bales; shipments, 622 bales; gathered about the hay wagon and discovered that his patient was on top of it the doctor scarcely knew what to do. He had no more idea of how to mount the load of hay than if it had been an elephant, but scrambled up after the street sweeper, when the latter told him how to get up by way of the ladder. The man was still striking out blindly with his arms and writhing on the hay when Dr. Bell, panting and breathless, finally reached his side. The man's contortions suddenly ceased and he flattened out, Dr. Bell placed his cap over his eyes to shade off the sun, and gave the order to drive ahead. The Dispensary was but a half block away and the ride was short. ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Lead dull at 3.02140 The physician had time to realize the oddity of his position and something suspiciously like a grin spread over his face. When the wagon stopped the doctor and the street sweeper siid the colored man down off the wagon feet foremost. He was by this time but semi-conscious and limp as a rag. As he neared the ground he was assisted by a score of hands and walked into the Dispensary. After a few simple remedies were used he recovered, walked out, mounted his wagon with an agility that

PARK PLANS CHANGED

COMMISSIONERS WILL BUY THE LANDS ALONG THE RIVER.

The Board of Park Commissioners, at a

Mr. English's Compromise Suggestion Accepted-Will Construct a Levee Driveway.

to reconsider the determination to let the Fall-creek park system end at Indiana avenue, and concluded to adopt Mr. English's compromise plan. The chain of parks will commence at the old bridge over White river, at Washington street. Mr. English proposed to leave out all the west side of the river and 25.6 acres on the east side, leaving 67.53 acres to be included below Indiana avenue. From Michigan street on the plans will be as originally adopted, except that a strip of land along the north bank of Fall creek, owned by the Indianapolis Water Company, will not be taken. The company has informed the board that it intends to beautify the grounds it owns and spend even more than the board could afford to do. The bed of the creek, however, will be taken by the board in order that it may have jurisdiction over the water and prevent its pollution. Beginning at Washington street, the board will have but a narrow strip of ground back of Evans's mills, but it is of sufficient width for the commencement of the driveway that will be constructed. A tract of 81-100 of an acre belonging to George F. Evans will be taken for the commencement of the drive. The next tract, containing 1.85 acres, is owned by Brower & Love Bros., and lies between their cotton mills and the river. The firm is very much adverse to giving up this land, as they want to extend their plant to the river. In order to accommodate them the board proposed to so construct its levee out into the river as to miss their land, but an investigation of the plan the mill owners had under consideration showed that they themselves expected to build out into the river several feet, so that the bend the board proposed to construct would have been built entirely in the river bottom, and this would cost such a large sum that the board decided it could do nothing but take sufficient land off the Love tract. It will have to be condemned by court proceedings. The next tract contains thirty-six acres, and is owned by Frank A. and Magdalena Maus and Josephine Maus Schaff. The final tract contains 28.78 acres, and is owned by W. J. Hubbard, The estimated cost of these three pieces of ground is $30,000. Some of the land is absolutely worthless to any one else, but will have to be paid for, nevertheless. Of the 261/2 acres that will not be purchased, five acres is owned by J. G. Voss, 101/2 by Geo. W. Stout and eleven acres by the Mauses. It is estimated that abandoning the land on the west side of the river will reduce the cost about $6,000.

While Mr. Claypool was away the board virtually decided to buy the Kirland property, on West Washington street. This was appraised at $8,000. Mr. Kirland wanted $2,000 more than the appraised price, but finally agreed to sell it for $8,000, after Messrs. English and Holt urged him to make this concession. Yesterday Mr. Claypool's motion to not purchase this land was voted for by himself and Messrs. Perry and Lieber, Messrs. English and Holt urging that it be purchased. They felt so con strained after having induced Mr. Kirland to accept $8,000. Leaving this piece out will lessen the expenditures of the board that much, and it will be applied to the White-

Mr. Lieber reported that he had been un-able to come to any understanding for the purchase of the Dean property at the appraised price, and on his motion the board decided to condemn the Dean land. The court will be asked to reappoint the assessors to modify their assessment roll to meet the change in the plans. It is the intention of the board to push things as rapidly as possible. Yesterday the employment of enough extra clerks to hasten the work was authorized, and the assessors will get to work at once to make their rolls conform to the change in plans. They somewhat, so that the board hopes they will be ready to report at the regular meeting Friday. Park Engineer Power called the board's attention to the fact that their quarters in the Trust building were already crowded, and that with additional clerical forces there would not be room enough to turn around. The room on the same floor formerly occupied by Mr. Holt is vacant, and Mr. Power was authorized to rent it temporarily until the extra work is completed. Mr. Lieber voted against this. He had been criticised in a certain direction on the ground that he is a director in the Indiana Trust Company, director he profits from the rent paid by the board, while the charter makes it unlawful for any official or employe of the city to profit by any contract with the city. It is said that a point had to be strained to make this criticism, but because of it Mr. Lieber voted against paying any more rent. The park board pays but $40 a month, and, even if Mr. Lieber owned a very large amount of stock in the Trust Company, his profits from $40 a month would be almost infinitesimal, it is said. Last night Mr. English said that it was proposed to build a broad levee along the river front. The driveway and a bicycle path will occupy the levee. The roadway will overlook the river, and will, in many respects, resemble the pallisades of the Hudson, although the river is not so wide and the prospect naturally less attractive in some respects. There is an old slough formerly the bed of Fall creek, which winds over part of the lowlands. Its course will be somewhat improved to form a part of the general plans and the banks built up to prevent overflows. Most of the land that will be required below Indiana avenue is was surprising to the superintendent after low and marshy, is always inundated at his own clumsy efforts and then drove high water and unfit for any building purposes. The proposed levee will not only serve for a driveway, but will also keep back the water. With some filling in of the lowest parts it is said very beautiful park effects may be obtained with this low land. The driveway will be above it, and after it is improved will lay between woods and trees on one side and the river on the other. The idea at present is to have a continuous driveway from the old National road to the fair grounds, with a bicycle path beside it. come. Some time ago he expressed a desire

Mayor Taggart is pleased with the outto have the system continued down to Washington street, and he found a persistent ally in Mr. English, who has worked incessantly for the last three weeks to reach a compromise. Then only opposition came from members of the board who were afraid there would not be enough money. Last Sunday Mr. English took the entire board out with him, and succeeded in convincing them that he was right as to the desirability of purchasing the land. Mr. Holt was asked last night what he thought of the meeting on Hillside avenue. reported in the Journal yesterday. He said that if it were possible he would be in favor of giving the people of the northeast part of town everything they ask for, and the only difficulty was the question of

Irvington Town Affairs.

Irvington is to have a new postmaster and a new postoffice building this week. The postmaster under the new administration will be Everet Gates, with Mrs. Dailey as deputy. Mr. Gates has received his commission and will take control of the office next Saturday in the new building, which is situated on Central avenue, near the Panhandle tracks. The Irvington town election will occur next Monday, May 3, on Railroad street.

opposite the Panhandie station. There are two tickets in the field-Republican and Citizens'. Upon the latter are both Republicans and Democrats.

Fell from the Second Story. John Tracey, twenty-one years old, living on West Pearl street, between West and Missouri streets, was taken to the City Hospital yesterday afternoon in an unconscious condition. He had fallen out of a second-story window during Monday night, and it was feared he had suffered a fracture of the skull and a severe concussion of the brain. He recovered consciousness during the evening, and it was found that he was not badly injured. He said he sat down in the window at about 1 o'clock yesterday morning and fell asleep.

Will Be Cremated.

The body of John Karnatz, who died last Sunday at his home, 395 Cornell avenue was yesterday taken to Cincinnati by undertakers Collier & Murphy, for cremaBusiness DIRECTORY
